

Nourish[®]

A smorgasboard of training ideas to promote body confidence, self-esteem and critical thinking for young people.

Eden, New Zealand's leading community provider of eating difficulties support, proudly presents Nourish; a comprehensive training and resource pack for those providing education, support, or health promotion to young people.

The Nourish Workshop includes:

- 4 hour training
- Nourish resource pack— includes activities, workshops
- Facilitator's guide – includes tips, ideas, key questions
- Safety Guide - includes warning signs and ideas on how to support those with eating difficulties
- "At War With Our bodies" DVD
- Lunch included

Nourish training resources/activities help young people:

- Understand & deal with thoughts & feelings about physical appearance
- Develop critical thinking skills
- Examine influences on body Image with a particular focus on the media
- Practice listening to and appreciating their bodies
- Learn health practices around food and exercise
- Celebrate diversity in themselves & others and challenge appearance bullying
- Identify ways to create "body-safe" environments.

Nourish's creative activities, discussions, DVD, images & worksheets, allow these issues to be explored in a variety of learning styles. The activities and ideas can all be used individually, in small groups, or with bigger groups.
